

Officer's Retiring March. I.

The Marshal remains at her station to supervise the retiring march.

The W.M., W.P., A.M. and Warder approach Alter at same time, taking positions as per diagram. The W.M. and W.P. facing Alter, the A.M. and Warder facing East.

As the W.M. and W.P. leave their stations, the A.C. and C. take position between Alter and East, facing each other. (See diagram.)

As the C. and A.C. leave their stations, Adah and Electa march in front of their chairs, leaving the labyrinth as per diagram as they march around their stations, Ruth and Esther step in line, Esther following Ruth.

As Adah and Electa approach Alter the W.M. and W.P. face and march toward East, followed by lines; as they approach C. and A.C. face East and lead the lines, marching East, then right and left, the Sec., Chap. and Treas. stepping in place as the lines pass their respective stations. Note — the W.M., W.P., A.M., Warder, C.

A.C., Adah, and Electa all move at the same time in beginning of march, each taking their respective positions

Officers Retiring March - Continued. II.

As lines approach exit the C. and A.C. step aside - the W.M. and W.P. leading the line out of the room - the O. and A.C. leaving the room last.

The O. and A.C. may collect the badges as the officers pass out. This is optional with the Chapter.
